Photo Paiges

I'm Paige,

Photo Paiges was created after I fell in love with engagements and wedding photography in college. With my portraits, I love to show real moments that connect each person to another. I am a lover of the romantic, the authentic, and the beauty of love. I'm here to help you document the little moments and the big ones.

Engagements

I love engagement sessions! They are more relaxed and tons of fun. I use this time to get to know you two as a couple. I see how you interact, what it takes to get you to smile. I learn about your relationship, how you met and your hobbies. These things help me to incorporate your personality into your wedding story while we have fun and capture this special time in your lives.

Working with me

Besides capturing stunning photographs of your love, I aim to make sure you are always at ease even if that means I need to coordinate all events and keep you cool and confident. Your happiness with my services, product, and day together is top priority to me. I love to laugh and have fun so as I demonstrate posing for you I may make you laugh until you cry. I will also be adjusting a million little things as we spend time capturing the perfect photographs of you and your loved ones. The little details you've spent months planning will not be unnoticed. Your day will fly by and I am there to make sure every aspect is special and memorable.
