about me

When I began documenting weddings in 2009, I never would've thought I'd fall so in love with it. But I did. There's just something about it—something about seeing each unique, raw moment unfold—something about being in whatever strange position I need to be in to capture it—something about stringing your images together into a record of the day you will never forget. So now I live for it. All those things you imagine for that day, all the things you've always imagined—the rush of slipping into your dress, the laughter at a suddenly uncooperative flower girl, the joy of a first look, the tears of a father, the pain in your feet after dancing the night away—translating these from moment to image is what I love.

I love Jesus, marriage, our rescue pup Franny, my college girls, our families, patio hangs, a good manicure, London, slow mornings, and well-crafted coffee, cocktails, and food.

I'd also love to get to know you, your story, your family, your engagement, your quirks, your favorite candy, and hopes and dreams are for your big day. Let's make some magic together, shall we?

xo,
Kristi

FAQs

How are images delivered and when?

Your images will be delivered on a customized USB before six weeks of your wedding day.

Do we have printing rights to our images?

Absolutely! These are your pictures, and you're able to print whenever and however many you'd like. I will suggest printing companies because I request the photos to retain their quality. If you prefer that I handle the printing for convenience, I provide a la cart pricing for prints, albums, etc to include with your wedding package.

Can we meet beforehand?

Yes, of course. It is actually preferred. I'd love to get to know you two and your story! I approach each wedding uniquely and believe they each tell their own story with the details, location, colors, and all those involved in the day. We will have a "kick off" meeting to discuss my style and approach, and of course – you two! After that, we'll keep in touch up until a month out and finalize any final details or walk through the ceremony location together to ease any stress you may feel the day of—like I said, that's my job.

How many photographers do we get?

Two. Myself and an assistant – always. Can't live without one! Additional photographers available upon request.

We want to work with markit photography, now what?

That's great! Happy to hear it. First let's talk wedding details, your hopes for the photography and packages—do you want an engagement shoot included? Let's do it soon so you can send out Save the Dates. Do you want albums included? Let's get those included in the package for the best bang for you buck. After securing your date with a half-down deposit, we'll stay in touch along the way and, as mentioned before, meet a few weeks out for final details, timeline and payment.

Where did "markit photography" come from?

Great question, and an interesting story. Early in 2009 I talked about partnering with a friend in some marketing efforts where he would be the strategic side and I would be the creative. I researched some company name ideas and the idea of "markit" came to mind, playing off of marketing and utilizing the play on words "marking" your brand or message. Well, that endeavor didn't quite pan out so 6 months later I used it for my own photography company with the (somewhat cheesy) tagline "markit with simplicity. markit with creativity. markit forever". I never thought I'd keep it and still like it after all these years.

How many hours do you typically shoot for a wedding?

Typically 8-10 hours per wedding, though it may vary. I want be there from start to finish—from the first hair appointment to the sweaty dance moves.

How would you describe your style of photography?

Relaxed, natural, candid and intentional. I will always prefer natural light over artificial and encourage the timing of your portraits to be either early in the day around sunrise or later just before sunset.

Can you help us leading up to the wedding day? We're stressed!

Would love to! A little secret about myself, not only do I love capturing weddings, I just love weddings and would love to provide help, design or creative suggestions, and day-of scheduling. I've planned ours, attended and shot many weddings, and have (just about) seen it all.

Do you travel for weddings?

Who doesn't love to travel? I certainly do, and totally willing to do so—anywhere! I lived abroad for a year in London and since then have a total travel bug. I will not charge extra if your wedding is within 30 miles of the Austin, Texas area. If outside the Austin area, we'll discuss those costs during one of our initial meetings.

How many weddings do you typically shoot per year?

In 2015, I shot 16 weddings—the most I've ever taken on. That being said, I will be keeping around that amount each year to maintain the same level of professionalism, detail, and attention to each client's wedding.
